Robin Westman's Journals

Journal Part 1 (Without images)

Introduction

This is part 1, containing only the first of three parts. The second and third parts are in separate documents.

This is a version without images. There is also a version with images available.

> Version 2: Added dates and descriptions of video audio/visuals, revised annotations and text

Robin Westman recorded videos of his journals and a letter to his family, which he uploaded to the YouTube channel @robinw1312. The channel was taken down soon after he committed a shooting at Annunciation Catholic Church on August 27, 2025.

Robin kept 2 notebooks as journals. The first one is split into 2 parts, resulting in 3 total parts across journals. The journals were written in English using the Russian Cyrillic alphabet. Some Latin characters such as "J", "W", and "Th" were left intact. Simple English words were also frequently replaced with their Russian equivalents, such as "Я" in place of "I" and "с" in place of "with".

Example: Я тhынк ыф Я joинд сом TCC комюныти, Я wуд нот лаик ыт
Translation: I think if I joined some TCC community, I would not like it

This document contains a transliteration of the first part. The original Cyrillic was not transcribed due to the amount of time it would take.

This document was originally created on August 29, 2025. This revision was made on September 24, 2025. The font is Georgia. The page numbers use Cambria.

Other parts of the journal and versions of this document can be found on the Internet Archive: https://archive.org/details/robin-westman-journals

Note: Robin Westman was a trans woman who "regret being trans" but still wished to be a girl. Robin mostly used "she" to refer to herself/himself in the journals and said "I don't give a fuck about my pronouns". This document uses "he".

Thank you sog on WatchPeopleDie (watchpeopledie.tv, also known as WPD) for transcribing every page of the first section. Thank you for also answering questions about unknown words and images.

Thank you tinymindterrorist on Reddit (reddit.com) for proofreading and answering questions about words and images. Your own translation (Google Doc) was helpful for revision.

Thank you FirebombsNFiretrucks on WPD for answering questions about gun-related drawings.

Thank you TehMorbidlyCurious1 on WPD for archiving the videos on the YouTube channel. They can be viewed on the Internet Archive at https://archive.org/details/robinwestmanyoutube

The use of [en] to indicate words in the Latin script was taken from a KiwiFarms post by Safir.

The author of this document is Tetranon on the Internet Archive (archive.org) and NotYou on WPD and rDrama (rdrama.net). My display name on rDrama is N, and I also own the account MaybeYou on WPD, which I used to post transcriptions, and YourAlterEgo on rDrama.

Formatting and Notes

Journal Part number, Page number (Timestamp in video) | Date
Top margin: Images/Writings on the top margin
Video audio/events: Things that were said or shown in the original videos of the journals
Journal entry
Bottom margin: Images/Writings on the bottom margin

[Square brackets] indicate notes added in editing

Besides frequent words like "Я" (I), "с" (with), "и" (and), and "думаю" (I think), which are repeated throughout the journals, Russian words will be included in their original form after the translation, including misspellings.
Example:* Russian [Русский]

If a word or phrase was originally in the Latin script, it will have [en] after it. It will also be italicized (or unitalicized if it was in the margins, which are normally formatted with italicized text).
Example: (Hi guys [en])*

Drawings, stylized text, and other imagery will be described in square brackets.
Example: [Hearts] [Skull] [Guns] ["KILL YOURSELF" [УБЕЙ СЕБЯ] in a blocky font]*

Notes will be indicated.
Example:* TCC [Note: True Crime Community]

[sic] indicates exact transcription of words that seem erroneous or out of place.
Example:* didn't to [sic] too bad

Sometimes the journals have added vertical lines to indicate the start of a different section.
Example:* CAPTURE IS NOT AN OPTION! | While the rifle is the best Things that are said or shown in the videos will be described as "Video audio" and "Video events". Starting from page 2, two pages are shown at a time, with the even pages on the left, and the odd pages on the right. The audio transcription is written on an arbitrary page (even or odd).

Example: Video audio: "Nothing makes me wanna stop my plans" (Whispered as Robin lifts the page)*
Example: Video events: Robin stabs the drawing of the face while continuing to mutter "fucking fall and break and die". He then stabs a different part of the page and puts the knife away.*

The journals include the names of various people. Because these names were originally written phonetically in Cyrillic, they may be misspelled in the transliteration.

The capitalization may not accurately reflect the patterns of capitalization in the original journals.

Top margin: Manifestation of thoughts [Проявление мыслей] ЯNB

I have had thoughts of mass murder for a long time. I am very conflicted with writing this journal. I need to get my thoughts out without getting put on a watchlist haha! This journal is not gonna be organized or easy to read. It will be a brain barf of thoughts. Lately I have been entranced into the world of mass shooters. I have known about these events for ages, even at the time being morbidly obsessed. As of late, I have really let myself go. Indulging into every mass shooting video I can find. My interest in specifically school shootings started, I think, in seventh grade. I remember one day, I was talking to Valerie. She was my crush and I was with her and another kid. I asked them, "if there was a school shooting, where would you hide?" I don't remember why I asked that, but it seemed to scare them. They laughed it off to me but later told adults.

I got in big trouble for this but not too big! I basically promised I didn't mean anything. I got -> in school suspended for a week I think. These thoughts never went away but would be suppressed. I remember, every school I went to, I had some fantasy at some point or another of shooting up my school. Even every job. When I was caught in seventh grade, I don't remember ever talking to a therapist. They basically made sure I was not a threat, then locked me in a meeting room when I was at school for that week. LMAO I think that made me stew in my thoughts and then solidify some feelings of hatred and malice. In my head, I think that committing a mass shooting is not the right thing to do. I can not let myself do anything like that. But god fucking damn it feels so good to indulge in the thoughts. I had so many reasons why I cannot do it. I can't do it to my family. I love them and they love me. I simply can't do it to them.

---

Top margin: I WILL DIE! [УМРУ!]

Another huge reason, hilariously, is my digital footprint. I have lost all my aura LOL! I wouldn't want people finding my skate clips lmao hhhh. My clips are so ass and I would get fucking ROASTED! XD Also I don't really think my name sounds like a school shooter name lol. Robin Westman? Nahhh. And my face isn't crazy enough lol. I am not enough of a freak haha. Anyway.. for the people that read this, if any, hopefully not, I am writing this in this way so the average snoop won't immediately freak out. I really just want a place to put my thoughts. I can't talk to a therapist or family cos I will immediately be reported and put on a watchlist! BAD NEWS! I feel like I might already be on some kind of list due to my constant consumption of mass murder and violent content. I recently watched the films: Elephant, Class, and Heart of America. I basically skipped the whole movie and just watched the massacre scenes. I don't try to hide my internet activity from higher power, ya'know? Like it would prolly be unsettling and suspicious if Abbey or someone saw my YouTube history but I don't think it is weird enough for law enforcement to step in. Sorry, there is gonna be a lot of mistakes, I am tired and this writing style is hard and stupid. I am writing in Cyrillic text, in English uhh [en]. Phonics. I also sprinkle in some Russian words I think [Русски слови Я думаю], with terrible grammar and spelling. I have been learning Russian [Русски] for many years but never really learned. I just needed a cipher that I could write in quickly. Very inconsistent but hey, it works for me LOL. For a long time, since I got access to internet I have been seeking out gore and violence. I have been fascinated with firearms and weapons since I was little. I consider myself a pretty knowledgeable person, not just on firearms lol. I definitely have a big ego and a bit of a superiority complex. I think the reason I have let myself go lately is my fear of health complications. I have been smoking and vaping

for over seven years and the consequences seem to be making theirselves known. I am terrified of cancer and dying pitifully. I think my major depression has allowed my evil thoughts to take control. It seems to give me solace to indulge in thoughts of planning an attack. Today I assembled a school shooter cosplay. I have a ton of airsoft guns and gear and I put together a wicked loadout including an AK, pump shotgun, and two pistols as well as many mags and gear. I had been really wanting to put that together, yearning for the moment Abbey left to don the gear. It honestly felt amazing. <:| I could feel the gravity of my outfit and I made out a shooting in my apartment, including a police shootout and subsequent suicide. It was really fun and I loved how I looked and didn't want to take it off. I had never really done that before, creating a loadout specifically for shooting up a school. Around the time I was in seventh grade, I mimed shootings with my

Nerf guns, but never dressed the part. Today was a more serious feeling than I expected. I felt a bit of guilt but mainly enjoyed it. When I went to look in the mirror, I really didn't like seeing my face, so I put on a skull [Skull] mask. I liked that look but still didn't like seeing my eyes and forehead. I put on a baseball cap in a direct callout to Nikolas Cruz. I just found it weird I hated seeing my face. I have lately been creating shooting scenarios in Gmod [Note: Gmod is written with a backwards capital G]. Scenes include: schools, university, malls, and stores. I have tons of realism mods and started to enact these events. Mainly for fun but also to see if I could maybe quell these impulses. Nope! I love it, and crave more! I get bored of the NPC behavior and crave more fear and devastation, which scares me. I don't want to do this, but I feel a deep calling to create devastation and death. I don't think I will do it... But I can't be certain. [Nervous face]

There are definitely shootings that take up more space in my head than others. Some stand out more than others due to the kill count, devastation, or good or bad performance of the shooters. I wanted to see if any events had happened on my birthday, June 17th, and was SO disappointed at what went down. This loser Brian Clyde tried to shoot up a courthouse. IDIOT! Bro was talking mad shit and dressed tactically, and got absolutely ROASTED by a security guard with a pistol. Bro killed no one, barely grazing a guard's vest. Didn't make it in the building, he ran away and bled out in a parking lot while pissing himself. How pitiful, what a disgrace, I am embarrassed to have THIS be the shooting that happened on my birthday! I think his biggest mistake was attacking a courthouse. He also advertised his attack for ages by starting across the street. It's all about surprise! Bro wasn't locked in. Bro wasn't after what I want to do.

Journal Part 1, Page 8 (0:45) | May 24, 2025

I have a deep fascination with one man in particular: ADAM LANZA. What a fucking freak haha. Sandy Hook was my first, I think, exposure to school shootings. I can remember vividly when I heard about it. I remember sitting in the computer lounge in I think fourth grade. We were just silently doing work on our computers, when a little notification popped up on screen saying "20 children and six adults shot and killed at Sandy Hook Elementary in Newtown Connecticut." I remember not really knowing what that meant. I don't remember my classmates or teachers' reactions but I know that image of that lil notification popping up on has always stuck with me. For some reason, I can't get AL [Note: AL stands for Adam Lanza] out of my head. It's such a... PERFECT... EVENT. I love thinking about what it was like to be in there on that day. What it's like to be Adam, the kids in rooms eight and ten, the staff and teachers, and anyone else there that day. One event from the shooting which has stuck with me is where a survivor recalls hearing a little boy scream "Help me! I don't wanna be here" and Adam replied with "Well, you're here." and multiple shots were heard. I... hmmm.. this Russian [Роскии] shit is annoying lmao. I think I need to do it tho, can't take any chances. Okay, I am adding 'J' for 'ДЖ' and.. I don't know why I am explaining this. If someone *tries to read this before anything happens, they won't care that much to decipher it. And if I do do something, authorities (Hi guys [enJ) will probably stop at nothing to read this. So fuck you guys. I just hope I can read this down the road. ANYWAY! I fucking LOVE the idea of being that scary horrible monster standing over those powerless kids. A scream for help met with blunt, harsh, uncaring attitude. A cold bitch slap from reality. To have your cries for help mocked, and then that immediate horror as you feel death ripping through you. I want people to kneel under me, begging for their lives. I would not bend to your cries, I would revel in them, before shutting you up! XD

I like the shooters who know what they're doing. Shooters that plan for violence and mass death. Adam Lanza, Nikolas Cruz, Eric and Dylan, Vladislav Roslyakov, Anders Breivik, etc. I revere their status, I feel obliged to follow in their path. Maybe to outdo.

| Oh my god, I want to kill Logan. I hate that lil fuckin spaz. Massive Michael Strom vibes. Big liar and suck up. I hate his fuck ass personality. The kind of person who will always try to outdo your story with some fake exaggerated stories. I want him dead. If I ever shot up my workplace, I wouldn't even want to see Logan cower in fear. I would shoot him on sight, aiming for kill shot, no chance for him to even react. Given my luck, he would be the motherfucker to rush me and save the day. That's one of my biggest fears is getting tackled and arrested. ESPECIALLY before I am able to inflict a lot of damage and deaths. I want to die in the attack. I have always been suicidal, at least since adolescence. I never could find a good explanation. I have a loving family and a good support system of people that want to see me thrive. For some reason, the fact that I have a pretty good life and the fact that I want to kill people have never correlated to me. I seem to not really care about my life, only caring about my impact on other people. I am only not taking action because I don't want to bring that pain on them. I feel horrible picturing their reactions. I could give a fuck about Abbey. I hate being with them. Given the opportunity, I would take them out like Adam did his mother. LORD knows we need less of THAT in the GENE POOL. Fucking idiot.

I have tried and failed to not be racist. I can't help it. I have tried and acted like an open minded person but time and time again I am forced to realize the stereotypes are all true! Now, I am sitting next to this family of grubby ass Mexicans. They are loud, obnoxious, and inconsiderate. Lil bastard is trying to start his lil dirtbike that has no gas and his dumbass MAMA is just laughing and encouraging him. The Mexican spics are not really known for their intelligence. They are funny, I will admit that, but god I hate being around them and their culture. Dirty people. I hate interacting with ones that can hardly speak English. It's like they are fuckin retarded (most prolly are XD) I also hate Arabs and Indians. I just find them repulsive. Blacks [негри] can be alright. Most of them tho, fall into the: LOUD, self entitled, we wuz kangz ass niggers. I truly admire killers like Dylann Roof, Brenton Tarrant, and Patrick Crusius. I feel disappointed and pity toward killers like Ethan Miller, who planned for something much bigger, but couldn't wait to die, and gave it a half-ass attempt. All these events and stories have only fueled a fire in me to do it right. Take my time and plan for every outcome. I often don't find myself agreeing with these killers' specific ideologies. I think Nikolas Cruz and Patrick

Crusius are MAGA idiots who thought white people should rule the world and minorities shouldn't exist. I don't know... I think they should have rights and opportunities, I just hate them. Don't get me started on Somalis. Subhuman, crude, sad society. Criminally-inclined, animals. Totally irredeemable. I seem to find myself liking almost all mass shootings, but in particular, school shootings over places like malls and theaters although I do love James Holmes. His theater attack is the stuff of legend. I always wished he kept going and didn't give up. I am glad he lived to get insight into his mind. I am so sad his apartment bomb didn't blow up. Same with Eric and Dylan's bombs. Imagine how amazing the magnitude of destruction would be! I don't think I have ever heard of an attacker's bombs or some kind of second attack working. They either don't properly set the shit up, or cops are able to disarm the threat before it works. So SAD! WHY?! [ПОЧЕМУ?!] Or mofos who wanted more but had to die like Randy Stair.

I don't even know if I do this because I am suicidal. I have wanted to kill myself since I found out what I am and what world we live in. I hate this system of corruption that seems to have no other end but through fear and murder as in the case of the United Healthcare exec. I think the steps we take in America to prevent these tragedies are a joke. Foregrips and extended mags are illegal? Good thing criminals follow rules haha. It makes me want to use all the things they "outlawed" and show them how easy it is to bypass these stupid, backwards rules that only hurt legit gun owners. Anyway... It seems I don't just wanna kill people to die. I have found myself, now and in the past, wishing I could jump into someone's body for a day, commit a horrible massacre, then return to my body with all my memories. I would love to have that experience without needing to die or have that horror and humiliation on myself or my family. I guess that's why I enjoy recreating mass shootings in video games. God, I hate this Russian shit. It prohibits me from being as fluent in my thoughts as I would like to be. I also wish I could do this on a computer so I could edit and move things around. But I can take ZERO CHANCES! I am kinda sad I missed my chance to be a student school shooter. Now that I am an adult, it will be so much harder to get into a school and carry out an attack. I don't know if that is my preferred target. I like the idea of children being shot, I don't feel as much excitement when I hear about shootings at theaters or malls. I love thinking about being a student, stepping past unsuspecting classmates, then revealing the monster I am. Like Adam Lanza, I would have to intrude into a school, which ruins the element of surprise I need. The optimal attack has been in my mind for years. I remember being in high school, in the cafeteria looking at the crowd of students waiting in line for lunch. Shooting a classroom or hallway would be NOTHING compared to the mess of flesh. A full-auto or super reliable semi-auto rifle would do wonders. This crowd is easily three to five hundred people, packed together like sardines. If you have been in a pit at a big concert, that's exactly what this is like. That's what you gotta do. Huge crowd, element of surprise. Unload into the crowd as fast as possible, aiming for head/kill shots as much as you can. Then continue to pick off survivors as they flee. The risk with a cafeteria like that is getting rushed. You would have to do research into a good place. One that draws a large, packed crowd, with a suitable entrance that gives you quick, easy, access to unloading into the crowd. Another big fear that will certainly lead to being rushed is my weapon jamming or failing in some way. I MUST plan accordingly for this. I must have a few backup weapons, a super reliable gun, or preferably, both!

Top margin: ["HELP" in white letters] :)

In regards to my motivations behind the attack... I can't really put my finger on a specific purpose. It definitely wouldn't be for racism or white supremacy. Those fools seem to always get clowned and while I don't really like being around people of color, I don't give enough of a shit about them to take my life over them. If I did carry out some racially motivated attack, it would most likely be against filthy, Zionist Jews. I hate those entitled, penny-sniffing kikes. FREE PALESTINE! I think my dream would to be to shoot up a middle or grade school like Adam, but that is probably unrealistic due to security awareness in 2025. I don't want to do it to spread a message. I do it to please myself. I do it because I am sick. I am twisted. I want children to scream for help. I want old ladies praying for their lives. I want men to think they can stop me. Only for me to stop them DEAD in their tracks.

Bottom margin: [Person bleeding out] ["FEAR FEAR FEAR" in a scratchy font]

Journal Part 1, Page 18 (0:18) | May 27, 2025

Due to the way the media is, I am going to have an agenda assigned to me anyway. The only ideologies I can really relate to and can say are a leading factor on my target is maybe gun control. I think it is horrible that these events happen and I do think it should be harder for people like me to carry out these attacks. I said I would maybe use illegal or tax-stamped gear and weapons to make a point that criminals with intentions are NOT going to follow rules! I recently heard a rumor that James Holmes, the Aurora theater shooter, may have researched venues that were "gun free zones". I would probably do the same, to shit on the rule and maybe change some minds. I get it for places like prisons and airports I guess. But for most places, it only unarms the good guy (LMAO) with a gun. Holmes wanted to make sure his victims would be unarmed. That's why I and many others like schools so much. At least for me, I am fucked up, much like Lanza I presume. I like the idea of slaughtering defenseless kids. I am not as big a fan of the idea of shooting up a theater or mall full of adults. To me, it's not as much fun when they know what is going on and can take appropriate action. I love Sandy Hook because these were lil first graders who didn't know what was going on, they just knew they were gonna die! If I could take my pick... I would shoot up a ZIONIST, Indian-African-Mexican immigration school [Laughing crying face XD]. Or just a synagogue. Realistically a concert is probably the best bet for mass murder quickly. Stephen Paddock had it right and got the highest score in the U.S. Unfortunately, he was so far away he was basically shooting at ants LOL. I bet he couldn't see any carnage or hear any screams. I doubt he even cared about that, that dude was fucked up. Or a CIA operative lol. I know I want to be that horror in the halls. I want to see the look of fear on my victims' faces. I want to taunt and tease them like Eric and Dylan. I want them to beg to a god that won't listen.

I recently learned a fact that in the Uvalde shooting, Salvador Ramos used his finger to write, "LOL" on the whiteboard in one of his victims' blood. HILARIOUS! It's the little things like that that get me really interested in researching shootings. The words and actions shooters take, and the survivor's reactions. "Well you're here!" "Subscribe to PewDiePie!"

I really don't think I am gonna do anything at this time. I simply have too much to live for. Not necessarily for myself but my family. I am proud of my family and they don't deserve that shame. Especially my father, whom I love dearly and couldn't bear to have him hear that news. I feel like my mama would have seen it coming, due to my rocky past with violent threats. The other day my stepmom Tracy said she could feel a "dark energy" around me. LMAO Tracy if only you knew! FIND ME I am BEGGING FOR HELP, I AM SCREAMING for HELP, THIS IS NOT A DANCE.

When fantasizing about my attack, I eventually need to think about my loadout. I think the best plan is to follow Holmes and Lanza and many others. Assault rifle, pump shotgun, and one or two pistols. I am so sad Adam left his Saiga in the car. A semi-auto shotgun with extended mags would have laid out beautiful carnage on those kids. A semi auto rifle would do what I need. I think full auto is unnecessary and more of a detriment to my abilities. Holmes started with his shotgun, then switched to his rifle, knowing the layout of the theater would be more spread out. I want to attack an already huddled group like in the cafeteria. A Saiga-like shotgun would be great for a crowd like that, given you have a drum-mag. So one assault rifle with a drum-mag and a handful of regular mags. Hollow-point ammo for max devastation. I know realistically I won't have an hour long shootout with the cops lol. Best bet is to unload drum mag as fast as possible. If the mag jams, drop it immediately. Clearing a jam is a fantasy in times like these. While I have had no real experience with any real rifle platform, I feel like I could clear AK jams faster than AR jams just because I know the weapon better. And I feel like I could strip the dust cover and bolt if needed but really an AR platform would prolly be the easiest to use under stress and easiest to acquire and collect mags for. A shotgun should be easy enough. I would get a wood stock one so I could saw it off. I am scared of what it will feel like, I have only shot 12 gauge a handful of times and those were full-stock. I think I will need to find a good starting spot if I want to use all my weapons. Find your crowd, find an ambush spot that's close enough for accuracy but far enough to not get rushed by an hero [Note: "An hero" means someone who commits suicide] or trampled in the mass of fleeing people. If I do it right, I should be able to come out of my hiding (maybe [en]) place, into the mostly empty room, only containing people hiding and bodies. Piles of bloody bodies either dragging themselves or DEAD! At this point it should be obvious if you got a high kill count. Now you should have a short but open window to have your moment of strolling around shooting anyone you want. I don't think I will mess with bombs. Too finicky, suspicious, and it's not personal enough. I want to look at the people while I slaughter them. I think similarly to Lanza and others, I will bring extra pistols I won't use. Probably 2. One on my hip with extra mags, for backup. And then one for emergencies. I think I would want to mount it somehow to be on my chest, pointed right under my chin. If I do get tackled, I NEED! to be able to quickly end my life. CAPTURE IS NOT AN OPTION! | While the rifle is the best for the job, I got to be ready for anything. I think if the rifle jams, give it 2 seconds of attention. If I can't diagnose and fix it in two seconds, ditch it and move on. Disassembly is a ridiculous pipe dream! If I did mess around with any explosives or anything,

I would prolly just do Molotov cocktails. Even then, those are sketchy. I could also easily make an oven bomb. Not really to kill anyone or even destroy evidence. Just for the chaos. I think it was Jonathan Sapirman who put a butane canister in his oven and turned it on max before he left. That seemed to work well, and I think it was just one can! I wonder how hard it is to get tear gas canisters ever since James Holmes' attack. Knowing America... probably nothing changed! Last night I was looking at real guns online. I was shocked at how affordable a lot of stuff was! If I get everything new, (prolly not) should be about twenty five hundred for guns. Add an extra 2 ish thousand for gear and ammo and I think that's a very attainable five thousand. Add for the fact that I will want LOTS of practice and familiarity with my guns. Next Sunday, Abbey invited me to a fag concert at some pervy freak house. I really don't wanna go but I have to do something with Abbey so they aren't a sad-sack. I also figured a place like this is the perfect place to have small fantasies of scouting victims. This place I am going to is much too small to be my real target, but it will be fun to think about how the crowd will panic, exit paths, hiding spots, all that jazz. Also will be fun knowing none of these people know a monster is among them. They have no idea what I am thinking. [Dog head next to a bone and a goblet] Bro... I just learned that Jeff Weise, the Red Lake Minnesota shooter, did things very similarly to me. I like Jeff a lot, mainly because he did the best MN [Note: Minnesota] shooting lol. But he apparently also liked the movie Elephant, and like me, he also skipped over the main parts of the movie to enjoy the shooting scene. That scared me when I heard that haha.

Fuck you. [en] I am not gonna do anything. I don't know. Fuck me. I don't know what I live for. I want to end my life before I can't live my life. I definitely have cancer or something. FUCK! I feel some shit in my lungs. I hate my life at the moment. I hate Abbey. I am uncomfortable in my own home. I dread coming home from work. I scream and cry when I pull into my parking lot. I can't stand being around them. I hate living like this. I went to the damn concert and I DID think about killing all those fags. What a bunch of freaks. It just feels disgusting being in those spaces. Everything is grossly sexual and perverted. I can't do it tho. Not the right target. I can't commit an attack because I can't ruin my family's name. It would destroy them. Killing myself would alleviate my problems and my family would get pity instead of hatred. I don't think I could just take myself out. I would need to do something with my final act. Either for good or for worse. For worse would be targets such as children or innocent civilians. That would bring me the most joy. I shouldn't tho, for the sake of my family. For good would be a target of political or societal significance. Targets like Musk, Trump, or some significant exec from EXXON or Nestle or something. This would still bring hatred and criticism to my family but I think in their hearts, they and many others would view my actions as heroic and necessary for the better progression of society. Am I a good person, am I a bad person, am I neutral? No, none, nothing. I want a better society, I hate fascism, I hate inequality. I also love when kids get shot, I love to see death tolls rise. I am sorry your kids had to be the subject of my playtime, I am not sorry they died, maybe I am... IDK. I would be pissed and horrified if my brother was killed or even shot in an attack. That doesn't seem to change how I feel about committing one myself. I am not gonna do it, I don't have it in me to betray my family. But I can dream.

[Screaming faces]

I would not murder Abbey on their own just because I don't like them. I would only kill them if I was starting a rampage and they were in the wrong place and time. I can't stand them. EVERYTHING that comes out of their mouth is sexual. I am so uncomfortable around them. I regret meeting them. I miss my life before Abbey. Fuck me... I am tired of my happiness being dependent on their mood. I am sick of waiting around for them. They drag me down and hurt me.

Having a partner like Eric had Dylan, would be really helpful, but is a huge risk and an unnecessary thing that can and WILL go wrong. I had thought briefly about indoctrinating Abbey. It would be possible and fairly easy I presume. I decided not to, however, because Abbey is simply too stupid and dim-witted to competently carry out my plans the way I see best fit. Abbey better hope and pray that they are out of my way when I SNAP! I have no plans, only desires. That's all I hope my family can learn from this. :) A gun would be cheap and easy to get, I think. Depends on how deep I am under investigation by FBI. I am for sure at least somewhat on their radar. I don't know how I wouldn't be. I feel I would still be able to buy a gun from my local pawn shop.

These people don't know how close I am to my breaking point. Why. Does it seem as soon as I tilt down to a path, I feel more encouraged to kill. I have received numerous jokes today that have been at my expense. Naomi was joking with a customer and was talking about not being afraid of me. Bro, you probably should be. Keep talking shit and I WILL make you afraid of me. I be asking for help. I have dropped a few warning signs to a few people. Nothing crazy, but if I did something, they would say it was obvious in hindsight. I don't think I am asking to get caught, I think I am more training to see who is a bit like-minded. There are people who agree with Luigi and hail him as a hero. I think that is a good excuse for talking about shootings and actions without scaring people. I hope I haven't said anything too scary! I think if I joined some TCC [Note: True Crime Community] community, I would not like it. I think I might cringe so hard I would not want to do an attack LOL. I feel a very small portion of TCC feels as I do and harbors ideation of intent. I think it is mostly thirteen year-olds who praise and idolize these events for shock value and some morbid curiosity. When presented with opportunity or even when they think of themselves actually doing something, they would back out and cower away. They don't want to see the

It is shockingly easy to get a gun holy shit! I had a wonderful time at the pawn shop. I was nervous to pretend to be a normal gun buyer. I made a fake story about going to a gun range and wanting a gun for home-defense. The person seemed to believe me and was super helpful and even gave me recommendations on guns. He told me about the Kel-Tec KSG .410. It sounds really cool. I think 410 is the way I should go. Very controllable and still devastating. I think 12 gauge would be a pain. I really like the Genesis G12 [Note: G is written as Ж in the journal]. I hear it never jams. I am thinking tho, that I should go with a pump-action like the KSG. Oh my god I NEEED the Genesis G12. I need to blend in and get right next to a packed crowd but still be in a secure position safe from getting rushed. Then pull my weapons from hiding and unleash before they can run, disperse, or even react to my presence. Pick a gun free zone. Pick a spot with no security. Keep a gun on your person that is ONLY for suicide. Don't use it until the end to ensure you have a way to kill yourself. NO CAPTURE! I need to pick a target. I want to think about it carefully. I would love to attack a school but I think my time for that has passed. Adam Lanza was able to make his way in, but he got lucky I think. And these days, people are much more aware. If I was still a student, it would be easier. School shootings just please me the most because I fucking love the awful slaughter of innocents. I love the terrified kids. I wonder who is more scared in a shooting: Sandy Hook and Uvalde, or Parkland and Santa Fe. The little kids don't really know what is going on but they know it's bad and are scared. Or the high-schoolers who know EXACTLY what is going on. Anyway, I think I still want to try to honor my family name, by picking a target of moral obligation. These targets include: Immigration agents, corrupt politicians, execs of greedy megacorps, and hate groups like Nazis. These targets are all sub-optimal as they are hard to access, well protected, hard to get into the crowd I want, and generally ready, or are somewhat expecting to die or face some adversity for their positions. No matter what I do, my family will be disgraced. If I am going to do something, I am going to do it MY way for MYSELF! Killing the people that order bombs to be dropped will still label me as a sick assassin murderer and shame my fam. If I am doing it for me, I am going for as many kills as possible. I don't care who. Shooting a crowd of Trump supporters at a big protest like January 6 would be both a lil morally justified but also satisfying to me haha. Not the move tho, too many gun owners. I wish I could slaughter a room full of pedophiles. I might actually get away with that lmao. But that will never happen. I really feel like a concert venue would be my best bet. I am picturing the Fine Line venue in Minneapolis, there is a "green room" or something right next to the stage. That would be perfect for sneaking guns into in instrument cases. Then gear up, and swing the door open and start blasting. I don't want to approach my targets in full gear. Game over.

I loved seeing Brenton mow down the fleeing people, their arms flailing as they fall. I loved seeing him come around the corner and drill that pile of bodies. Sorry, PILES of bodies lol! I couldn't even make out what that blob on the screen was, but as soon as he started unloading into it, a big

It bored me. Don't get me wrong, I loved it but I wasn't as shocked as I thought I would be. I noticed he unloaded his shotgun, then instantly dropped it, no reload. I think that was a smart move, however, he picked the wrong spot for it. He did use it how I would but he didn't take full advantage of the shotguns' spread and number of projectiles. I liked seeing the person crawl away after being shot, then Brenty switched to the rifle and finished him off. Lovely. I also nearly giggled with glee when the freak hiding in the corner tried to make a run for it, and Brenty caught a glimpse, so he waited for him to run into the same hall Brent entered through. Brilliant tactical move by B-Dawg. So wisely knew he would probably use the front entrance to escape. Just from that brief glimpse he got of that room, he knew it was connected. A true inspiration in terms of tactics, not really in views. I do wanna scribble on my guns though. Honor past killers.

Just like I told myself how to feel about this journal. I am just being edgy and doing something scary to let out these pent-up feelings. This journal did NOT help lol. If anything it's more like a lil devil in my ear, encouraging me to follow through! The scary part is that these are all my own thoughts! I know damn well buying a gun will only push me further. I don't know which side of me is going to take over my brain first. The radicalized political terrorist that wants to send a message, or the psychopathic monster that wants to slaughter innocent toddlers. God, I really want to kill kids. Kindergarten through fifth grade would be the best. Able to be overpowered and terrorized easily. High schoolers are not as innocent and can also fight back! KILL KIDS!

I went on a walk today with my friend around his neighborhood. We passed by a housing complex that had a courtyard playground area. In this area were many Muslim kids playing. There were about twenty kids, mostly girls wearing their stupid head towels. I don't know why but as soon as I thought of them as targets, my mind started racing about how I would attack them. I don't necessarily hate Muslims, but I don't mind when the world is cleansed of a few more! I really want to let the psychopathic side take over. I want to satisfy myself. All my life I have

I really need someone close to me to die to snap me out of this. I have never had a death of a close friend or family. It would push me one way or the other, hopefully for y'all, I won't want to. Hopefully for me, I will lose all meaning. [Skull] I am thinking about killing kids for fun! Thinking about twenty kids crammed into a closet or small bathroom. Thinking about looking at their tiny, terrified faces. Thinking about mercilessly emptying my drum magazine into them, then continuing to drill their corpses until I am out. GOD, I WANT TOOO [Я ХОЧУУУ]. I really hope my gun does not jam when I am in that situation. I am almost thinking of not going with a rifle caliber like 5.56 or .223 [Note: 5.56 and .223 are written upside-down]. I am such a weak bitch, I wouldn't be able to sustain it LMAO. I am thinking of getting a pistol caliber carbine, or a pistol with a chassis upgrade and extended mags. I want to hang out with my brother soon so I can shoot his rifle. He has an MP5 chambered in .22. I have no interest in that caliber unless I can get my hands on an AM180 haha BZZZZ! But, no. He also has... a 5.56 rifle! He has a pretty cool M4 type rifle. I want to try that, try dumping the mag as fast as I can, try shooting from the hip, and just generally any concerns I might have about that caliber. I hope I can handle it, I would prefer it. I don't really know what would be the most devastating. Definitely hollow-point something. IDK. I just HAVE to assume my weapons will fail on me. Redundancy! I really liked Brenton's semi auto shotgun, it worked perfectly. I don't think I am going to do that though. I think a good ol' pump shotty is the way to go. The KSG .410 seems really cool but the twin tubes confuse me and I don't want anything weird happening during my special day. :) The ten round capacity is alluring, but the 5 and one of the Mossberg shockwave is fine.

I want to find the right shells for my purpose. There are some really nasty home-defense rounds.

[Diagrams of shotgun ammunition]

[Right resembles the Hornady 410 Triple Defense shotshell, which has a hollow point slug on top of two round balls. A smile :) is drawn below.]

- Long barrel high velocity - Not many pellets to scatter through the crowd.
- Hornady Critical Defense. - Maybe alternate?

You know, I probably don't want hollow point ammo for my not-shotgun weapon. If I get the honor of finding myself facing a massive blob of people like Brenty did, I should want my bullets to penetrate multiple meatbags. I would hate to have any heroes protecting their loved ones. I want them all to die. I don't want to die sadly from cancer. I want to make history. I am so sorry for my family. I was contemplating my attack last night, picturing myself walking into Seward Cafe with my shotgun. I had a premonition of my shotgun failing and me getting rushed. Definitely go pump action over semi auto. Even still I pictured the pump being still too slow. I am scared of someone seeing me be slow with the pump and charging me. Don't die being an hero. I feel the KSG will be too complicated for me. I want something classic and straight-forward. Rather than the Kel Tec, I think I will go with the Mossberg Shockwave. It's the same price, around four-fifty, same length ish. There are four less rounds than the KSG but I think ease of use will be more appreciated. I have also heard the KSG can be tricky to load and that the pump is finicky, you can't short-stroke it even a lil. DAMN! I just found the Mossberg AfterShock! :o That looks amazing, six shots, semi auto, compact package, this is so cool! Imagine dual wielding those, dumping six shells faster than they can react, then when they think you are finished,

BOOM! Six more, dead or dying. I really like the idea of .410 over twelve gauge. I wish the Shockwave held eight but that'd make it too long. I have hesitations about buying the Shockwave only because it's a bit pricey for me lol. If I do buy it and then back out of my plan, I will probably still want a gun, even if not for suicide, too. I only worry about having to hide the gun or explain myself. I know I could hide it amongst my airsoft guns because Abbey is just that stupid, but eventually at some point I might have to admit I have a real gun. I want to run away from it all. I want it to end. HELP!

I think Seward Cafe in St Paul could be a good target. They often host music events and some are in their outdoor courtyard. I could very easily park my van in their lot, kit up in my van, then creep a short distance to an unsecured, or even wide open gate, then find a huge group of fags, probably afraid of guns and not carrying. There would definitely be some idiots willing to die to protect their homies, but I doubt anyone

Also would be great for decorating, nice flat surface for painting or writing. I need to win the lotto. | I probably should avoid the temptation to shoot Abbey on my way out. I live in an apartment and don't have any suppressors. Even if no one came to investigate or saw me in the hall, my car could be reported as I leave and that's just not a risk I am willing to take. Consider yourself lucky, Abbey. I think it would be way worse to get stopped by police before I reach my target. At least if I get tackled or shot at the scene, I still inflicted fear and traumatized people. Getting stopped by the cops is not only game over, it's humiliating and the cops aren't afraid of or haunted by you. You will be forgotten. Damn, this pen is running out of ink. journal. How fitting. Given the chance, I prolly would want to go out like Salvador Ramos. His hiding spot pretty much ensured death by cop. He exposed himself to officers quickly, giving them a concentrated area to fire on, while still being able to shoot a few cops on the way out. It's really uncertain and a sketchy move to take. Capture is NOT an option. I can't do a single thing to put me at risk of survival and prosecution. I couldn't bear to face my family after that. The end of this journal does not mean the end. I will keep writing, I will have more journals. I will act when the time is right. I will not rush my day of glory. When I decide to act, I will let you all know. I will be very clear. I am the type of person to pick a day and not jump the gun (haha, get it? gun! hilarious) and spontaneously act. I am holding myself back for now, but brother, I want rifles! [Я хочу винтовки!] Once I buy a gun I don't know how long I will last. I don't want to last! I want to kill! I want to kill! I want to KILL!!!

Back inner cover (2:48)

*Video events: Robin places his hand on the Adam Lanza picture and clenches his hand. He mumbles "Fucking fuck. It's all I know and... fall and break... [Unintelligible, sounds like "He"] can't die." *Slams journal shut

Kill yourself! [Убей себя!]

I will die! [Умру!]

WATCH OUT! [en] [Note: in red ink]

[Black and white image of Adam Lanza with "KILL" and "I WILL DIE" [УМРУ] written on the shirt. A piece of tape on the image has a heart drawn on it.]

[Made in China sticker]

[Explosion] [Skull and crossbones] [Bomb] [Spiral] [Pounding fist] [Strange looking face]
